GABRIEL NESTOR BRUFAU

software developer

PERSONAL PROFILE

I am a software developer full stack with 2 years of experience specialized in javaScript node.js react redux docker posgreSQL

WORK EXPERIENCE

junior developer

2021 to date

During this time, I have participated in six group projects that have given me a great understanding of teamwork, project workflow, and software development processes. Additionally, in one of these projects, I had the opportunity to learn and use TypeScript, which helped me work effectively with my team members. I have also used Git for version control in my projects. In search of new opportunities to continue growing as a professional, I am interested in learning new technologies and applying my skills to contribute to challenging and positively impactful projects.
